Seller

Partyfy passes are sold by Thierry Leforestier EI, trading as Twiga, a French sole proprietorship (micro-enterprise) registered under SIREN 792 055 154, 367 chemin des meunières, 34400 Lunel, France. Contact: contact@partyfy.io. VAT not applicable, article 293 B of the French Tax Code.

Offer

Partyfy is free for up to 8 participants per playlist, host included. A pass lifts this limit on one playlist for its duration:

- Party Pass: €2.99 in Europe, $2.99 elsewhere, for 48 hours;
- Month Pass: €4.99 in Europe, $4.99 elsewhere, for 30 days.

Only the playlist host can buy a pass; guests never pay.

Euro prices include all taxes. In the iOS and Android apps, Apple and Google show the price in your country's currency, local taxes included; the price shown at the time of purchase applies.

Payment

A pass is a one-time payment, with no subscription or automatic renewal. On the web, card payments are processed by Stripe; Partyfy stores no card details and a receipt is sent to you by email. In the iOS and Android apps, purchases are billed by Apple (App Store) or Google (Google Play), under their own terms.

Duration and end of the pass

The pass starts as soon as the payment is confirmed. Bought while a pass is running, it adds to the remaining time. When the pass ends, participants beyond the free limit stay in the playlist as read-only: they can follow it but no longer add tracks or vote. The host chooses who keeps these rights, within the free limit.

Right of withdrawal

A pass is digital content supplied immediately. By confirming payment, you ask for it to start right away and expressly waive your right of withdrawal (article L221-28 13° of the French Consumer Code). This waiver is restated in the order confirmation.

Legal guarantee of conformity

The seller is bound by the legal guarantee of conformity for digital content and services (articles L224-25-12 et seq. of the French Consumer Code). If the pass does not work as described (for example if the participant limit is not lifted), you can have it brought into conformity or, failing that, obtain a price reduction or a refund by writing to contact@partyfy.io.

Spotify

Partyfy requires a Spotify Premium account for the host. Partyfy is not affiliated with Spotify AB and cannot be held liable if Spotify is unavailable.

Complaints

A problem with a pass? Write to contact@partyfy.io and we'll sort it out (extension or refund). For a purchase made in the App Store or on Google Play, refunds are issued by Apple or Google, on request to them.
Mediation: if you have contacted us and are not satisfied with our answer, or received none, you can use a consumer mediation procedure free of charge with CM2C, 49 rue de Ponthieu, 75008 Paris, phone +33 1 89 47 00 14, litiges@cm2c.net, https://www.cm2c.net/declarer-un-litige.php.
These terms are governed by French law.
